Universal Negative (E)	No A are B	No cats are dogs.
Particular Affirmative (I)	Some A are B	Some students are intelligent.
Particular Negative (O)	Some A are not B	Some books are not useful.

🔗 RULE: Key Rules: All A=B + All B=C → All A=C (valid). All A=B + Some B=C → Some A may be C (uncertain). If one statement is particular (Some), conclusion is also particular. If one statement is negative, conclusion must be negative.

⚙️ MCQ TRICK: Draw Venn diagrams for complex syllogisms. Shade the Universal Negative first. The conclusion must be TRUE in ALL possible diagrams, not just one.

- C) Possibly True

D) Cannot be determined

✓ Answer: (D) Cannot be determined → Some $A=B$, Some $B=C$ → Uncertain (the 'some' may not overlap). Cannot determine.

EXAM PREPARATION SECTION

GRAMMAR RULES QUICK REVISION SHEET

#	Golden Rule
1	'news', 'information', 'furniture', 'advice', 'luggage' = ALWAYS SINGULAR
2	After 'Each / Every / Either / Neither' → use SINGULAR verb
3	Either...or / Neither...nor: verb agrees with NEARER subject
4	'ago' → Simple Past (NEVER Present Perfect)
5	'since' → point of time 'for' → period of time (both → Perfect tense)
6	Modal verbs NEVER take 's' or 'ed' → always followed by V1 (base form)
7	Passive voice: be + V3 check 'be' form matches tense
8	Indirect speech: tense goes ONE step back; 'I'→'he/she'; 'today'→'that day'
9	Type 2 conditional: use 'were' for ALL subjects (not 'was')
10	After prepositions, always use GERUND (V-ing), never infinitive
11	Adjectives modify NOUNS; Adverbs modify VERBS/ADJECTIVES/ADVERBS
12	'a' before consonant SOUND; 'an' before vowel SOUND (sound, not spelling)
13	Double comparative is wrong: 'more taller' → 'taller'
14	'fewer' for countable nouns; 'less' for uncountable nouns
15	'between' for two items; 'among' for three or more
16	Who = subject pronoun Whom = object pronoun
17	'Unless' = 'If not' → used in Type 1 conditionals
18	Correlative pairs must always be kept together: neither...nor / either...or
19	'Used to' = past habit no longer done. 'Be used to' = be accustomed to
20	Active → Passive: Object becomes Subject + correct 'be' + V3 + 'by' + Old Subject

ONE DAY BEFORE EXAM — REVISION NOTES

► Top Tips for Last-Day Preparation

- Revise ALL tense formulas. Focus on signal words (since/for/ago/already/yet).
- Revise Subject-Verb agreement rules: each/every/neither = singular.
- Quick-scan vocabulary list: focus on synonyms/antonyms of 100+ words.
- Read the one-word substitution table — 10+ words guaranteed in exam.
- Recall all modal verbs and their uses.
- Practice 5 number series and 5 direction sense questions mentally.
- Remember: FANBOYS (coordinating conjunctions), EJOTY (alphabet positions).
- Sleep 7–8 hours before exam. Eat well. Arrive 20 min early.
- Read ALL options before choosing. Eliminate obviously wrong choices first.
- In MCQs, first find the RULE, then apply it — never guess without a reason.

ANALYTICAL REASONING SHORTCUTS

Topic	Shortcut
Number Series	Find differences between terms first. If constant = arithmetic. Then check $\times/\div$. Then squares/cubes.
Alphabet Series	Memorise EJOTY (5,10,15,20,25). Find positional pattern (skip 1, skip 2, alternating).
Coding-Decoding	Compare corresponding letters. Find +n or -n shift. Try number code (A=1,Z=26).
Blood Relations	Draw family tree from scratch. Never assume gender. Use $\uparrow$ (parent) $\downarrow$ (child) $\leftrightarrow$ (sibling/spouse).
Direction Sense	Always start facing North. Right=clockwise. Left=anti-clockwise. Use Pythagoras for distance.
Analogies	State relationship in words. Check BOTH words fit same relationship type.
Odd One Out	Check: type, function, number pattern, letter position, category membership.
Syllogism	Draw Venn diagrams. Conclusion must be true in ALL possible drawings.
